NEW COUNTY A PROBABILITY

LOS ANGELES IS PREPARING FOR CONSOLIDATION WEST OF THE RIVER.

Communities This Side of San Gabriel
Not Included in Plan For Water Distribution.

It now seems certain that something definite is to be done by Los Angeles city regarding the formation of a city and county government, and the action taken by the Covina Chamber of Commerce several weeks ago to prepare for this exigency seems to have been a premise well taken. Mayor George Alexander has sent a long communication to the city council of the Angel city, in which he advocates
the consolidation of city and county government, on the grounds that the Owens river water must be distributed over a greater area than exists in the present limits of Los Angeles city.
The ordinance under which the bonds for the building of the aqueduct were voted prohibits the use of this water by any municipalities save that of Los Angeles, and it cannot be sold for private purposes. The aqueduct will furnish 20,000 inches of water, of which the present needs of Los Angeles city is about 2,000 inches, leaving 18,000 inches to remain undi-tributed unless the cities contiguous
to Los Angeles are taken into a consolidated government. Mayor Alexander has practically stated that the towns and cities east of the San Gabriel river cannot profitably receive the Owens river water, and the feeling of the Los Angeles consolidation promoters is that the communities east of the river must be left out of the new deal. This puts it squarely up to this vicinity east of the river.
The committee of twenty-one, chosen
at a meeting held recently in Covina,
is at work on the matter and will be ready to report at a mass meeting in the near future.

FRATERNIZE WITH TEACHERS.

W. C. T. U. Gives Pleasing Affair in Honor of Men and Women Who Instruct in Schools.

A spirit of closer relationship was established last night between the parents of public school children and the school teachers of Covina, through a public reception, held in the First Methodist Church, under the kindly direction of the local W.C.T.U. The handsome building was crowded with townspeople, and the event was made more than ordinarily auspicious by the presence of Mrs. Hester T. Griffith, president of the Southern California W.C.T.U., who spoke on the general subject of temperance as taught in the schools of the nation.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Mary Coman, superintendent of the work in the public schools for the W.C.T.U., who is also editor of the California White Ribbon. The devotional service was led by Rev. Bede A.
Johnson of the Methodist Church.
Prof. J. J. Morgan, supervising principal of the Covina schools, delivered an address on "Ideal Manhood and Womanhood." Mrs. C. S. Berry sang vocal solos pleasingly, and there were quartet selections from Thomas Trevor, Henry L. Marshall, W. P. Nye and H. N. Wells. After the regular program, the audience was given an opportunity of meeting on social terms, and the organization served delectable refreshments.

You may have some pose or some picture in mind. Bring them in and our efforts to please you will result in some nice pictures for holidays. C.

PASTOR IS GREETED.

Rev. Bede A. Johnson of Methodist Church Meets Large Gathering
in New Edifice.

The reception accorded Rev. Bede
A. Johnson, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and his wife and children, Wednesday night in the new church edifice, was the occasion for a gathering of a very large audience of Christian people. The reception was in the hands of the Ladies' Aid Society of the church, and an exceptionally fine program was given.

The pastors of the city, including Rev. S. W. Gage of the Baptist church, and Rev. M. W. Harkins of BEDE A. JOHNSON.

New pastor of First Methodist Episcopal Church, whose reception was held Wednesday night.

the Christian Church, occupied places on the platform. The exercises were conducted by F. W. Gail, who introduced the speakers in a most happy manner. Rev. Mr. Gage was introduced as the pioneer of Covina, although he has been here but four years, and he was later referred to as the "grizzled bishop of Covina."
Both Rev. Mr. Gage and Rev. Mr. Har-kins made speeches of welcome, and Rev. Mr. Johnson replied with strong words of optimism for his work taken up in the new pastorate. A vocal solo was rendered by Henry L. Marshall, and a reading by Mrs. W. W. Nash.
A piano solo was a contribution from Mrs. R. F. Chew, and was very well rendered.

Following the exercises, the ladies and gentlemen enjoyed a delectable lunch in the Sunday-school room, and the people took the opportunity of meeting the pastor and his family.

WAS IT A TRAGEDY?

Skeleton Weighed Down by Stones Found on Curtis Ranch Hints at Murder Years Ago.

Workmen excavating on the E. A.
Curtis ranch, in the Glendora foothills northeast of Charter Oak, came upon a skeleton last Saturday, buried beneath loosely piled stones. Remnants of clothing with brass buttons remaining, and the teeth in the skull, filled with gold, point to its being the skeleton of a white man, who may have been killed twenty years ago or longer.

A deputy from the county coroner's office viewed the bones at the undertaking establishment of W. Q. Custer, and they were ordered buried. No signs of a box or casket, or of the usual methods of decent burial were found with the body.

ENGINEERS INVESTIGATE

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE COM-MITTEE SPENDS DAY IN THE MOUNTAINS.

Puddingstone Canyon Thoroughly Inspected and Other Sites Will Receive Attention.

The committee appointed by the Covina Chamber of Commerce to inquire into the matter of suitable reservoir sites for the Covina valley, was accompanied by engineers on Monday to Puddingstone canyon, where the land was thoroughly gone over. The party included City Engineer Dessery, and A. Effinger, representative of Senator Oliver of Pittsburg. Mr. Effinger was a visitor opportunistly in Covina,
and accompanied the investigators at the request of the committee. He is representing very heavy capital in the East, which has an option on a large acreage in the Lucky Baldwin
La Puente rancho.

The committee and engineers climbed over the mountains of the San Jose range for the greater portion of the day. The result of the investigation will be reported back to the Chamber of Commerce at a meeting which will be called later. In the meantime the engineers will inspect several proposed sites in the San Gabriel canyon.
In the work to be done in the canyon
the committee expects to have the advice of expert engineers, and the ground will be thoroughly gone over.

WATERING MANY ACRES.

La Puente Cooperative Company
Makes Fine Showing in Report of Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of La Puente Water Company was held at the pumping plant Tuesday of this week. The following directors were elected: S. L. Watts, J.
W. Larmer, C. R. Norton, W. S. Sawyer, E. Schwarze. The First National Bank of Covina was made treasurer;
B. M. Given, secretary.

The company is in splendid financial condition, all debts being paid and a fund in the treasury. The company has been pumping 900 inches of water at a cost of about eight cents per one hundred inches.

The company is now watering 1562
acres of land contiguous to the plant,
and is arranging to take in more territory. The big Corliss engine recently installed has been doing splendid work in every way, and the stockholders are negotiating for the purchase of a similar engine and machinery, with the plan of materially enlarging the plant.

Monday Afternoon Club.

The first current events lecture of the season before the Monday Afternoon Club was given last Monday by Mrs. Coman and drew the usual large crowd.

Most of the time was taken up with a voyage by map around the world, noting the political and social conditions in each country.

The matters of more domestic interest touched upon were the proposed smaller size of the dollar bill, the proposal to introduce an oath of allegiance into the public schools, the appointment of a woman police officer in Los Angeles, the recent disaster in the Los Angeles Times building, the wonderful civic advance of the town of Rochester as portrayed in the American Magazine for October, the rapid development of the science of aviation, the world's missionary congress at Glasgow, Scotland, the statement by four of the most prominent critics that California is to be the greatest art and literary center within a few years, and that Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of schools of Chicago has been elected president of the National Educational Association.

The Shakespeare section will meet next Monday.

2,000,000 BOXES OF ORANGES FOR COVINA. WHY NOT?

BY WILLIAM HOOGENDYK.

There isn't a man in the district who can talk about divers conditions of groves and oranges as a manager of a citrus association. He continually bumps up against conditions which he must answer and explain, and it is his business to do so, and after being in the district a length of time he gets so accustomed to the different conditions of crops that he knows where to get the size and quality of fruit, the trade calls for at special times. It is his business to pick here and there to get in the house a desirable lot of sizes where he can dispatch his cars (of regular sizes) without delay. He is continually working to cut to a minimum, cars of off sizes, and cars of large off sizes, letting the small sizes grow to increase the crop, and picking the large sizes early so as not to get them in a class of undesirable sizes.

While talking to a grower the other day, he asked me why he did not get as much money per packed box as his neighbor. I sat down and figured with him. If the sizes of his fruit, instead of being from 216 down to 360 size, had been 216 and up to 96 size, he would have increased his crop 50 per cent. If his fruit had been regular sizes instead of small he would have increased his net income at least 35 per cent. If the fruit had been protected by an abundance of foliage, keeping it from getting marked, it would have produced a better grade, another increase of possibly 25 per cent in the net income from the grove, and if the Valencia had been of an orange color instead of a green, another increase of 25 per cent, and to cap the climax, there was room enough on the trees for another 50 per cent increase in the crop. Will some one please figure up how much the net earnings of this grove would have been increased if the conditions were all as they should have been?

—You may ask me, why did you not let the small fruit grow? The oranges did not grow. Why not?

The Argus in an article last week speaks of fertilization, cultivation and irrigation, a tripod. If a grower wants to reach the highest point of success he must see to it that his tripod is well balanced, for even should one leg be shorter than the others he can not expect the desired returns. Last week on my trip through the orchards I came to two ten acre groves side by side, soil about the same, trees almost the same size. One of them gets dry before irrigating time; the other does not. This is not the fault of irrigation, but of cultivation. No one can expect water to do its duty unless you put the water where it can work to the best advantage. If the man on the one ten doesn't get the results as the man on the other ten, it is entirely up to him.

Another tripod is commercial fertilizer, nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash. If you go to an up-to-date section where they raise sugar beets, you will find that the beets are planted in plots. When the beets are getting ripe they gather a few beets from the various plots, cut them up and analyze them as to sugar, etc., and if the beets don't come up to the required standard, they balance the tripod for better results.

This is entirely out of the question as to orange orchards. You can not cut up the tree so as to find out the fertilizer it takes to grow the same. Not long ago, on another walk through the groves, my attention was called to splendid foliage on a few rows of trees. The owner had put on a carload of manure, and the effects of it were astonishing, although manure contains but a very small amount of plant food, if any. It was an agent to start the nitrogen bacteria in the soil and the nitrogen already in the soil became available to the tree, hence the splendid foliage. There are other substances that are not plant foods, but are very necessary elements in the production of crops. You may irrigate, cultivate, fumigate, put on nitrogen, phosphoric acid or potash, but you must have another well-balanced tripod to make these things available and it is composed of lime, iron and magnesia.

The soil has a quantity of magnesia, and as Dr. R. R. Snowden, with the backing of the Covina Farmers' Club, is investigating this condition, I will not touch it. Iron also is in abundance, in fact there is a steady stream coming in from the irrigating water from the mountains, but how about lime? Dr. Snowden says that if there is more magnesia in the soil than lime, you get variegated leaf. It shows that there is less lime than magnesia, because we have the variegated leaf. There is no lime in the irrigating water whereby we may replace the lime taken up by the tree. According to Hillman in "The Cultivation of Citrus Fruits," the analysis of orange trees in the 100 parts is as follows:

Fruit—nitrogen .32; phosphoric acid .38; potash .32; lime .43.

Leaves—nitrogen .70; phosphoric acid .10; potash .32; lime .71.

Trunk and branches—nitrogen .70; phosphoric acid .43; potash .58; lime .80.

He goes on to say: "It may be well to mention here that in the opinion of some of the most experienced and successful growers of oranges in Spain, all formula of manures for the orange tree should contain sulphate of lime and sulphate of iron, the quantity varying according to the composition of the soil. If the land is poor in lime only, gypsum (sulphate of lime) is employed; if lime is moderately in abundance both sulphates are used, and if the soil is distinctly calcareous only the sulphate of iron."

As you notice in the table, the tree and fruit take more lime from the soil than any of the three other parts. We know that super-phosphate and phosphoric acid carry phosphate of lime and after being reverted in the soil will make a sulphate of lime which will be available, but the amount is by far too small to supply the tree and fruit. Still it has been demonstrated that trees are doing better and more fruit by using fertilizers that actually carry a certain percentage of lime than by using fertilizers that don't.

A certain grower asked the question why, under the treatment of an abundance of fertilizer, some trees do very well, while others don't. Some growers are calling commercial fertilizers a failure because they do not get the results they expect. It is not the fault of the fertilizer if the soil carries the amount of lime it should.

At the thirty-fourth fruit growers' convention held in Riverside in 1908, there was a paper read by Frank L. Palmer, North Pomona. In part he says:

"The advantages and disadvantages of a soluble phosphate may be stated in this way: When soluble phosphoric acid becomes distributed in the soil, a process of fixation rapidly takes place, the phosphoric acid uniting with the lime and other alkaline bases present in the soil. This process is commonly spoken of as reversion. If there is plenty of lime in the soil the lime will be the rest of the alkaline bases to get the acid and the reverted phosphoric acid is then just as valuable as it was before, because in this form it is still available to the roots of the tree. If, however, there is not much lime in the soil, but a good deal of iron and alumina, these bases will get the acid which practically in this case would pretty effectually lock it up, and it is in this respect that the possible loss of the phosphoric acid takes place. You will notice then that there is little danger of loss by leaching because the phosphoric acid by the process of combination becomes fixed in the soil, and the only loss is in cases where the soil may be very deficient in lime and very rich in iron."

There was a time in the dark ages back East that some one got up a saying that lime makes a rich father and a poor son, but now adays plant food taken out of the soil through the agency of lime can be returned by the use of fertilizers. While your orchards have been producing large crops every year you have taken out of the soil tons of lime. What have you done to replace the same?

I will give you the answer of the great Fruit Growers' Convention recently held at Pomona. Out of the United States report No. 70, "Exhaustion and Abandonment of Soils," before the Industrial Commission, page 31: "We have in Maryland and Pennsylvania small areas of land that are derived from the disintegration of serpentine rocks that carry a large proportion of magnesia, and it has been found that where the amount of magnesia is in excess of the amount of lime, plants rarely do well and frequently are an entire failure. In such cases the application of lime simply to reverse the ratio and make lime a predominating ingredient in the soil will restore the fertility of the land. Very frequently, also, and probably more often even than we now suppose, soil is acid. It has been found that the soil of Rhode Island is very generally acid, and the addition of lime simply to neutralize this acidity will promote the fertility of the lands in a very remarkable degree this same cause of acidity of the soil is found now to be much more prevalent than we have heretofore supposed to be the case."

GOOD TASTE SHOWN.

Bonham Residence on Badillo Avenue is Roomy, Attractive and Typical of Semi-Tropics.

To live as much as possible in the open air in Southern California, is an idea that James Bonham of Covina thoroughly believes in. He has built his handsome new home with this idea uppermost in the planning, and Mrs. Bonham, who had much to do with the planning of the home, is of the same opinion as her husband, concerning the value of living in the open.

The new home on West Badillo avenue, on the Pacific car line, strikes one as being built on a very generous scale. Mr. Bonham has built a porch, fronting mainly on the east, which runs the entire length of the building, while it also goes across the entire northern front and part way around in the rear of the house. This porch is made of solid concrete, with concrete railings, supports and heavy pillars. The big porch gives much of the idea of the Spanish paseo, and will undoubtedly be a splendid feature of the home during the warm summer months.

The residence is 60 feet by 39 feet in dimensions, and there are seven rooms and three balconies. It is erected at a cost of $4500. The balconies are really sleeping rooms, roofed over and screened on three sides, being finished in the inside in weather finishing. There is one on the north, facing the mountains in the upper story of the building that commands one of the finest views of the valley to be obtained. The other two are on the east and south.

The lower floor is finished in Oregon pine in a very pretty effect. The three front rooms open into each other with folding doors. Mr. and Mrs. Bonham have a reception room in this arrangement that will hold a large number of people. The music room is a particularly attractive feature of the house, and the well-arranged kitchen is modern in every respect. The cement work on the building is largely the work of Bonham & Ritchie, with the assistance of Martin Fessler, the contractor and architect is John McCune. The home sets on a lot 60 feet by 154 feet, on one of the fine residence streets.

FREDERICKS AT POMONA.

Great Mass Meeting is to Gather Monday Night to Hear Address by District Attorney.

District Attorney J. D. Fredericks, who has one of the stiffest fights on his hands of any of the Republican candidates in Los Angeles county, was in Covina Wednesday evening of this week, and went from this city to Baldwin Park, where he addressed practically all the voters of that vicinity and Valley View at a meeting in the schoolhouse. He was given an enthusiastic welcome, and the district attorney talked for nearly an hour.

The meeting was held under the auspices of the Baldwin Park Good Government Republican Club. An instrumental solo, "National Airs," was rendered by Miss Louise Carroll, and a vocal solo, "Beautiful Garden of Roses," by Mrs. Merston. The district attorney made a very favorable impression, and there is little danger that many Democratic votes will be cast in the Baldwin Park vicinity for the office of district attorney.

District Attorney Fredericks will speak again in Pomona on Monday night and a large number of automobiles will take a party over from Covina to hear him. The district attorney will be heard in Covina before the close of the campaign.

Death of Mrs. Abbott.

The death of Mrs. D. M. Abbott occurred on Tuesday, Oct. 18, in Los Angeles, after a short illness. Mrs. Abbott was the wife of Dwight M. Abbott, who is a brother of Mrs. E. C. Rich of Covina. The gentleman and his wife were for several years residents of this place.

Tonight at 8 o'clock sharp, at the Club House, the minstrels, Nash sells tickets.

analyst. Do we need one? I should say yes. The Argus also speaks of the number of cars of fertilizer, and naturally, if we are going to increase the crop from 600,000 boxes to 1,000,000 boxes, it will take 40 per cent of increase to plant food. If, however, we can make the plant food soluble, so that the tree can take it up and expect to get 2,000,000 boxes of fruit, I kindly suggest that the fertilizer agents better get busy and enlarge their warehouses in Covina. At any rate, by looking these conditions square in the face, conditions which are good now will be very much better, and there is no reason why we can not produce 2,000,000 boxes of oranges annually at Covina.

JOHNSON IS COMING.

Republican Gubernatorial Candidate Will Be Here on Wednesday For Final Rally.

Under the direction of the Los Angeles County Republican Central Committee, Hiram W. Johnson, candidate on the Republican ticket for governor, will be in Covina this coming Wednesday at noon. He will be accompanied by a number of the state candidates and a corps of local county Republicans.

Prominent Covina citizens will meet Mr. Johnson, and arrangements will be made for a large crowd to hear him. This is Mr. Johnson's last swing around the citrus belt before the election, and he sends word on in advance that he has a particular message to convey to this territory.

Just Use Good Sense.

Use the ordinary amount of good sense that you employ in your business concerning politics this fall.
Because some wild-eyed person comes to you with tales about one of your employees in your office or on your estate, you don't "fire" the employee without investigating, do you?
Because a Democrat who is a good and loyal for the office of district attorneyship comes to you, you don't state your opinion against the party. You state your opinion to the person for whom
you are working, and you don't state
your opinion to the public.
When you hear a man say that he is a Democrat, or a Republican, or a Prohibitionist, or a Socialist, or a Socialist, or a Socialist, or a Socialist,
don't state your opinion against the party.
State your opinion to the person for whom
you are working, and you don't state
your opinion to the public.

The effect of the Argus has been Mr. Fredericks' fourth year. He is conducting the district attorney office side of Chicago, and he is conducting it for you. There is nothing crooked about District Attorney Fredericks.
Woolwine is being backed by E. T.
Earl, whose record every citizen grower knows. Mr. Earl did not succeed in getting control of the district attorney's office with Mr. Fredericks in charge. Do you want a Democrat in office under E. T. Earl's dictation?

Regardless of Politics.

Partisanship should have nothing to do with the selection of men to fill judicial positions. It is manifest that a man's views on the tariff have nothing to do with his ability to interpret a contract. It is for this reason that we urge our readers, no matter what their party affiliations may be, to vote for M. C. Sloss for Judge of the Supreme Court. Judge Sloss in point of ability and integrity, is second to no man in this state. It is time that men of his character should be retained for the welfare of the people at large,
and to uphold the dignity and standing of the bench in California. M. C.
Sloss was high man in the Republican primaries in August, and it is our hope and expectation that he will again be the choice of the people at the election in November.

WALTON'S EXPLANATION.

Presbyterian Member Who Aroused Censure of Church Believes There is Misapprehension.

Samuel J. Walton, who was called before the prominent members of the Presbyterian Church last week to answer to charges regarding alleged un-Christian conduct, called on the Argus
this week and wished to make an explanation. Mr. Walton was accused of stating that he would be glad to have the building at the time that the structure was blown up, and admitted having made such a statement when questioned by the church meeting.

Mr. Walton said that he was afraid the people of the town were laboring under a misapprehension.
"I am not by any means an anarchist," said Mr. Walton, "I am a hard-working man with a family to support, and this community is the place where I have to earn my living. I want to adhere to all the laws of society, and to conduct myself as a Christian gentleman. What I had to say about General Otis was said in a moment of thoughtless anger. I do not want this community to feel that I am in any way an enemy of organized society, but just exactly the opposite, and I hope that the people will ignore this unfortunate episode."

Musical Recital.

A rare treat is promised the music lovers of Covina in the recital to be given by Miss Ruth Snow, at the Woman's Club House, next Friday evening, Oct. 28th.
Miss Snow, a brilliant young pianist
and composer, comes recommended by such well known Los Angeles musicians as Mrs. Harry Clifford, Mr.
George Meulford, Henry Schoenfeldt,
etc. Musically precocious as a child,
Miss Snow early manifested a strong preference for the more pretentious type of musical composition, of which latter she has acquired a very large repertoire.

Upon her program on this occasion
will be found such numbers as Leschetzky's arrangement of the sextette from Lucia di Lammermoor for the left hand alone, and Liszt's transcription of Rigoletto. She will also play one of her own compositions.
Mr. George Meulford, formerly with Ohlmeyer's Coronado band, and recently with the Catalina band, a gentleman who stands without a rival as a flute and piccolo soloist, will assist in giving variety to the programme.
The instrumental numbers will be interspersed by vocal solos and duets
by artists of high ability, the whole making a programme such as no lover
of the best in music can well afford to miss.

Missionary Society Meets.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society was held on Thursday afternoon of last week and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. B. L.
Reynolds; first vice-president, Mrs.
Joseph Moxley; recording secretary,
Mrs. A. Warner; corresponding secretary, Miss Clara Taylor; treasurer, Mrs. Wallace; secretary of Mother's Lodges, Mrs. C. H. Smith; secretary of the home and systematic home missions, Mrs. McNelly; prayer leader, Mrs. N. M. Kim; and reporter, Mrs. O. J. Davis.
The program was most interesting and the session was concluded by the singing of the hymn, "O God, Be Faithful to Thy People." The annual meeting of the missionary society of
New York and Arizona, Mrs. J. L.
Matthews, read a poem "Sanctify Thy Word," Mrs. Taylor read a poem
"Home," Mrs. Nuzum on the "Fruit of the Tree of Life," Mrs. Warner on "Porto Rico as a Missionary Field."

New Episcopal Church.

Work is to be started within a short time on the new church structure for the Holy Trinity (Episcopal) parish in Covina. The church vestry met on Friday and appointed a building committee which consists of Rev. Alfred Fletcher, chairman; George N. Atwood, W. H. Collins, Harry Damerel, treasurer. The contract is to be let to the Kling Contracting Company in Los Angeles, and the building is expected to cost in the neighborhood of $13,000.

Isis Benefit Program.

A benefit program is to be given on Monday and Tuesday evenings at the Isis theater, the total proceeds to go toward the building fund of the Holy Trinity (Episcopal) Church. The manager, F. F. Greene, has arranged for some splendid moving pictures of a special nature, and members from the church will supply a secular musical program. The events have every indication of being well worth an attendance.

A little "Want Ad." in the Argus
will sell what you have to sell.

RECORD OF JUDGE SLOSS.

Has Had Much to Do With Simplifying Criminal Procedure in This State.

Judge M. C. Sloss of the Supreme Court will be further endeared in the minds of those who love fair play and justice, when it becomes generally known that he is one of the pioneers in the movement for the reform of criminal procedure. If the hope of the advocates of this measure is realized, the Penal Code of California will be a model for other states to follow. His record on the bench and bar, not only of this state, but of other states as well, where his decisions have been made, were cited as precedents. In this connection it might be well to mention a few of his decisions which are most widely known and which were on matters of great public importance.

Judge Sloss wrote the decision upholding the McNary Act. This was an emergency measure passed by the legislature to provide a legal method of restoring records of real estate titles destroyed by the great San Francisco fire.

JUDGE M. C. SLOSS.

A decision which is of vast moment to labor, as it is always cited in this state and other states in like cases, as a precedent, is his opinion upholding the constitutionality of the act limiting the time of labor of underground miners and smeltermen to eight hours. Judge Sloss has also attained distinction by his broad minded, liberal interpretation of the Employers Liability Act, which has done more to secure the rights of the employed than any other decision ever rendered by the courts of this state.

In all of the decisions of this eminent jurist, it will be noticed that he has always had regard for the spirit as well as the letter of the law, that he has always, so far as has been in his power, tried to carry out the wishes of the people as expressed by their representatives in the legislature. Prejudice and bias have had no place in his decisions. Law, justice, common sense and humanity have been his sole guides in rendering them.

Mr. Day Retires.

The following is from the Long Beach Press:

"On account of ill health, Mr. C. L. Day, for the past five years editor and manager of the Press, has retired from that position and has disposed of his interests in the Tribune-Press Publishing Company.

"A new corporation will be formed, the name of which will be that under which The Press was founded and conducted for so many years—the only logical name for the corporation owning and publishing the Press, to-wit: The Press Publishing Company. "The principal purpose in organizing a new company is to simplify the changing of the name, and providing of ample additional capital for improved equipment and the securing of professional and business ability for the expansion and development of the business on lines commensurate with the rapid growth and great future of Long Beach."

BRIDE FROM ILLINOIS.

Glen C. Harnish of Covina and Miss Helen E. Jenks United in Wedlock.

From the Savanna, Daily Journal of Savanna, Illinois, the Argus takes the account of the wedding of a Covina young man who has found his bride in the middle west. The wedding occurred Monday afternoon, September 28. The Illinois paper says:

A very simple though pretty wedding was celebrated Monday afternoon at the fine country home of Mr. and Mrs. George Jenks when their daughter, Helen E., was given in marriage to Mr. Glen C. Harnish of Covina, Cal., in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends.

The spacious parlors of the home afforded an excellent setting for the happy affair and were made bright by decorations of potted plants and cut flowers, white and pink carnations being used in profusion with artistic effect.

Mr. and Mrs. Harnish departed Monday evening for a wedding trip to Chicago, Rockford and other points, and expect to return to Savanna about October 15. After a visit in the country for a few weeks, they will depart for Covina, Cal., where they will be at home to friends after November 1st.

Among the relatives from out of the city who were present at the ceremony was the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Moore of Mt. Carroll, and his grandfather, Mr. Harnish of California.

Pythian Sisters Masquerade Ball.

Coolman's Hall, Oct. 29, 1910.

An invitation we extend to all. To the masquerade at Coolman's Hall, October 29th is the night we chose. So come dressed in any kind of clothes.

The admission to all, ladies and gents, is the very small sum of fifty cents. If unmasked you cannot go on the floor. So if you have none, buy it at the door. Be sure and get a hideous one. The worse the face, the more the fun. There will be cards for those who care to play. Instead of dancing, to pass the time away.

A good time we promise all who attend. So come one, come all, be a Pythian Sister's friend. 10-29

German Vetch.

The San Gabriel Valley Milling Company announces that they are offering while it lasts imported German Vetch seed at $4.25 per cwt. Ninety per cent of this seed will germinate. Oregon Vetch seed is only guaranteed to germinate 65 and 75 per cent. The German is also smaller than the Oregon seed. All orders placed will be filled at the above price.

I. L. LYON & SONS.

Growers and Packers.

Redlands, Cal., May 5, 1910.

San Gabriel Valley Milling Co., Covina, Cal.

Gentlemen: In answer to your inquiry as to our use of the German vetch as compared with the Oregon, will say we have used both and have had much better success with the German. A smaller amount to the acre seems to give a larger growth and the seed seems to germinate and grow much stronger than the Oregon. Pieces side by side, one sowed with German and the other with Oregon, showed a very striking difference; the German came up thick and grew faster and gave a much better cover crop.

Am stating simply our own experience and observation.

Yours truly,

I. L. Lyon & Sons.

WALLACE.

The Fresno Republican Sees In Him Strong Material To Pre-side Over The Senate.

Part of the Democratic opportunism is seen in the concentrated attack on A. J. Wallace, Republican candidate for Lieutenant-Governor. The Bell-Johnson fight is only a form. It is given up. But the Democratic strategists think they see a chance to defeat Wallace, so they are concentrating their efforts on him. To be sure, there are only two things against Wallace—he does not drink, and he does go to church. Not great crimes, forsooth, but these are those who think so, and if these could be turned solidly against him without a corresponding solidification of the opposite forces for him, it might cut the majority down. That is the game.

It should not be permitted to have even a start towards success. In the first place, no man ought to be beaten by that argument. In the second place Wallace is too good a man to be beaten by any argument. And, finally, it is of supreme political importance to elect him. The next Senate will be Republican. This is conceded. If it elected its own presiding officer, it would elect a Republican—in fact it would elect Wallace. The people should give it the sort of a president it would choose for itself. And governor Johnson, who is to have a legislature in harmony with him, should have that legislature organized in harmony with his and its politics. To elect a Democratic Lieutenant-Governor, under these circumstances, would be simply to obstruct the things which the people have voted to have done. It must not be, and it is not going to be. But there is a very active effort, based on these very preposterous grounds, to accomplish it. That makes the Lieutenant-Governor fight one especially worth looking after.—Editorial in the Fresno Republican.

That's the name of the new BROILER and BAKER manufactured by Stephens, Welch and Greenfield, Los Angeles, and handled in Covina by

F. H. FABRICK

All ovens heated by gas, gasoline or blue flame oil burners are dependent entirely on a circulation of heated air for cooking foods of any kind. The more perfect and positive the circulation, the more perfect the cooking qualities of the oven.

In this BROILER AND BAKER, there are no escape or discharge ports near the top, these being in the bottom, near the inlet flue. The heated air enters through the inlet flue, rises to the top, passes across the front, then down to the bottom, under the metal plate, back to the outlet ports, making a complete circuit around the article being cooked.

This is the best broiler or roaster for meats of every kind.

REAL ESTATE INVESTMENTS

THE SAFEST, SUREST, MOST PERMANENT, MOST PROFITABLE PLACE TO INVEST ONE'S MONEY IS IN REAL ESTATE, PARTICULARLY IF INVESTED IN GOOD SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA CITY OR COUNTRY PROPERTY.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA IS INCREASING IN POPULATION FASTER THAN ANY OTHER SECTION OF THE UNITED STATES. THIS STATEMENT CAN BE VERIFIED BY THE RETURNS FROM THE RECENT NATIONAL CENSUS.

JUDICIOUS REAL ESTATE INVESTMENTS BEATS MINING STOCK VENTURES AND OIL SPECULATION ALL TO PIECES. WHEN YOU OBTAIN A TITLE DEED TO A PIECE OF LAND—AN ORANGE GROVE, RANCH, OR CITY HOME—YOU OBTAIN ABSOLUTE POSSESSION AND CONTROL OF THE PROPERTY. THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS ARE ANNUALLY LOST IN FOOLISH AND UNWISE INVESTMENTS—IN ILLEGITIMATE MINING SPECULATIONS. IN VERY RARE INSTANCES A FORTUNATE STRIKE SOMETIMES BRINGS WEALTH TO THE STOCK OWNER, BUT IN MOST CASES ABOUT ALL THE MONEY GOES TO THE ENTERPRISING PROMOTERS, AND ALL THAT IS LEFT FOR THE STOCK OWNER IS DRY HOLES AND BEAUTIFULLY LITHOGRAPHED VALUELESS STOCK CERTIFICATES, DEPOSITED IN OWNER'S PRIVATE BANK SAFETY DEPOSIT BOX. THERE IS TOO MUCH RISK AND UNCERTAINTY IN INVESTMENTS OF THIS CHARACTER. IT IS FAR SAFER TO INVEST YOUR MONEY IN GOOD REAL ESTATE.

I'VE BEEN SELLING ORANGE GROVES, LEMON GROVES, RANCHES, COUNTRY HOMES, AND POMONA CITY REAL ESTATE FOR MANY YEARS. THROUGH THIS OFFICE AN ENORMOUS REAL ESTATE BUSINESS IS ANNUALLY TRANSACTED. IN VIEW OF THE VAST NUMBER OF REAL ESTATE SALES I'VE CONSUMMATED DURING THE PAST YEARS IN POMONA VALLEY, AND THE FACT THAT I'VE KEPT IN CLOSE TOUCH WITH REALTY VALUES IN AND AROUND POMONA DURING ALL THESE YEARS, IT STANDS TO REASON BY THIS TIME I SHOULD KNOW THE CORRECT VALUE OF REAL ESTATE IN THIS SECTION. ONE THING, IF YOU CAN BUY REAL ESTATE THROUGH THE J. A. FITCH AGENCY, I ASSURE YOU THE PROPERTY WILL BE WORTH ALL YOU PAY FOR IT, AND YOU WILL RECEIVE A SQUARE DEAL.

IF ONE GETS SERIOUSLY SICK, BETTER CONSULT A SKILLFUL PHYSICIAN. IF ONE BECOMES INVOLVED IN A LEGAL DIFFICULTY IT PAYS TO SEE AN ABLE PRACTICING ATTORNEY. THE SAME PRINCIPLE APPLIES TO REAL ESTATE. SOME PEOPLE FANCY ONE CAN BUY REAL ESTATE FOR LESS MONEY AND TO BETTER ADVANTAGE DIRECT FROM THE OWNER THAN THROUGH A REAL ESTATE AGENT. IT IS A MISTAKEN IDEA. I'VE SEEN SOME PEOPLE STUNG BADLY BY ADOPTING THIS COURSE. IF YOU CONTEMPLATE PURCHASING ANY REAL ESTATE IT IS MUCH BETTER, AND YOU WILL SAVE MONEY IN THE END, BY DEALING WITH A LEGITIMATE, EXPERIENCED, REPUTABLE REAL ESTATE BROKER.

IF I SELL A PERSON ANY PROPERTY I CAN GENERALLY DO BUSINESS WITH HIM AGAIN. TAKE THE CASE OF MR. U. M. THOMAS, FOR INSTANCE, THIS GENTLEMAN CAME TO POMONA SOME EIGHT MONTHS AGO, DURING THIS TIME I HAVE SOLD HIM SIX PARCELS OF REAL ESTATE, NAMELY: FOUR ORANGE GROVES, ALSO POMONA CITY REALTY. ON OCTOBER 6TH I CLOSED A DEAL WITH MR. THOMAS FOR AN ORANGE GROVE, WHICH HAD BEEN HELD AT $33,000, AND IN SIX DAYS AFTER—12TH INST.—I SOLD MR. THOMAS ANOTHER ORANGE GROVE—"THE NORRIS GROVE" AT A CONSIDERATION OF $35,000. MY REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS WITH MR. THOMAS DURING THE TIME HE HAS BEEN IN POMONA AGGREGATES $148,300. MR. THOMAS IS WELL SATISFIED WITH HIS INVESTMENTS, AS ARE MANY OTHERS WHO DO BUSINESS WITH THIS FIRM.

THE GROWING OF CITRUS FRUITS IS THE LEADING INDUSTRY IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA. AN ORANGE OR LEMON GROVE, RIGHTLY LOCATED, WITH GOOD SOIL, A PLENTIFUL IRRIGATION WATER SUPPLY, WELL CARED FOR, TAKE IT ONE YEAR AFTER ANOTHER, IS THE BEST INVESTMENT IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

I'VE PERHAPS THE LARGEST LIST OF ORANGE AND LEMON GROVES FOR SALE OF ANY FIRM IN THIS SECTION, MANY EXCLUSIVE PROPERTIES; I'M IN THE CENTER OF THE MAIN CITRUS BELT OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA—POMONA VALLEY.

IF YOU'RE IN THE MARKET FOR AN ORANGE GROVE YOU HAD BETTER MAKE AN APPOINTMENT WITH ME TO LOOK OVER WHAT I CONSIDER SOME OF THE BEST BUYS IN CITRUS GROVES IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA—GOOD INCOME PROPERTIES.

FROM THE NUMEROUS INQUIRIES WHICH I AM RECEIVING DAILY FROM ALL PARTS OF THE COUNTRY, I ANTICIPATE A LIVELY MARKET DURING THE NEXT FEW MONTHS FOR POMONA CITY REAL ESTATE, AND POMONA VALLEY RANCH PROPERTY. I'M FULLY EQUIPPED FOR SERVICE TO HANDLE

Home Seekers and Investors

HAVE ONE OF THE MOST SPACIOUS, FINELY APPOINTED REAL ESTATE OFFICES IN POMONA. HAVE ALSO TWO ABLE ASSISTANTS TO ASSIST ME IN SHOWING PROPERTIES TO PROSPECTIVE BUYERS. ONE IS MR. O. H. HOTTEL, A PIONEER IN THE ORANGE GROWING BUSINESS, WHO HAS BEEN GROWING CITRUS FRUITS IN POMONA VALLEY SOME 18 YEARS. THE OTHER IS MR. C. H. TYLER, WHO HAS LIVED SOME 14 YEARS AMONG THE ORANGE GROVES, BUDDING AND PRUNING CITRUS TREES.

WHATEVER YOU WANT IN REAL ESTATE IN THIS SECTION OF CALIFORNIA'S MAGNIFICENT, SUNNY SOUTH LAND, WHETHER IT BE A HOME IN one of the most beautiful and fastest growing cities in California---

OR COUNTRY PROPERTY OF ANY DESCRIPTION IN ONE OF THE MOST FERTILE AND FRUITFUL VALLEYS IN THE STATE—POMONA VALLEY.

I'M WAITING TO SERVE YOU—THREE AUTOS IN SERVICE.

IF YOU WANT REFERENCES WOULD REFER YOU TO ANY BANK IN POMONA, OR TO THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK, LOS ANGELES.

ONE OF THE BEST income small groves is No. 10,609—8 acres, excellent soil, water costs about $8 per annum, finely located midway between Pomona and Claremont. Held by present owner some 18 years, has never changed hands. A magnificent grove in first-class condition, an immense crop on the trees, good improvements. Can give immediate possession. Satisfactory terms. Better look it over.

No. 10,818—10 acres, mostly Valencia, 15 years old, crop estimate 5000 to 6000 boxes, new, modern bungalow. Will consider an exchange for suitable property.

No. 10,816—40 acres, one of the best groves in the Upland district, finely located, some lemons, mostly navel and Valencia oranges, in full bearing, an immense crop, good improvements.

$14,000—10 acres. Owner will allow $4,000 for the crop. 10,812.

$9,000—5 acres, crop 1500 to 2000 boxes, improvements, absolutely free water. $4800 down, balance $1000 annually. 10,811.

$30,000—18 acres, splendid income grove, navels and valencias, trees mostly 15 years old. Always kept in first-class condition, good modern improvements. Annual net returns for the past five years 10 per cent on $25,000. Crop estimate about 7000 boxes. $14,000 down, balance easy terms. 10,809.

ONE OF THE BEST income groves in Southern California. 21 acres, all navels, part 10, part 11 years old, in best possible condition, about 10,000 boxes on the trees. New strictly modern improvements worth at least $7,500, team, wagon and all equipment, furniture, etc., included. This grove is a big producer, a splendid investment, a beautiful home, fine grounds, shrubbery, flowers, magnificently located. If you are looking for the best, don't fail to see this grove. 10,808.

No. 10,806—A good buy. 10 acres, some valencias, mostly navels, about 3000 boxes on the trees, practically free water. $6,000 down, balance in 5 years "on or before."

$15,000—10 acres, navels, estimate of crop, 4,000 boxes. 10,207.

Can give immediate possession to one of the choicest small groves in Southern California, location famous San Dimas district, a section as immune from frost as any in southern California. Grove in best possible condition, heavy crop on the trees. 3½ acres, part navels, part valencias, finely located near San Dimas, good, new strictly modern 6-roomed bungalow. Nice home and a splendid investment.

10,795—$15,000, part lemons, part oranges, in fine condition. For a short time can deliver at $15,000.

$9,000—5 acres, an immense crop, estimate 3500 boxes, always kept in best producing state.

ONE OF THE BEST income producing lemon and orange groves in Southern California has just been placed exclusively in my hands for sale. Owner is compelled soon to return East to look after eastern property interests. Location, Upland district, a good lemon locality. This grove has been held by present owner a long time. Is now, and always has been kept in the best possible condition; immense crop set on trees; 15 acres, all in full bearing, about 15 years old; 9 acres Eureka lemons; 6 acres navel oranges; extra water rights included. If it is income property you're looking for, and you're able to swing this proposition, this is the grove you should see. Gross income for the past five years, at least $7,000 annually; income for the past year over $8400. What better do you want? Best of soil, good improvements. $33,000 buys it; half down; no trade considered. Would not now be on the market, but owner must shortly return East. Splendid team, harness, wagons, implements, hay; all equipment to run the ranch included.

$19,000—20 acres, 12½ Improved, fine citrus soil, balance of acreage navel and Valencia oranges, fine crop. San Dimas district. Magnificent elevated building site overlooking the valley. 10,752.

valued building site overlooking the valley. 10,752.

$17,500—This is one of the choice orange groves in the Uplands-Ontario district, splendidly located. 10 acres—about 1000 trees, is one of the best producing groves in the country, is capable of producing at least 5000 boxes, in first-class condition, excellent soil, well worth $17,500, but as the owner is now in the East and his interests compel him to remain there, he has instructed me to sell the grove at once, and has intimated that for a short time I can shade the price—satisfactory terms of payment can be made. Look the property over at once and make me a proposition.

$13,500—This grove is in full bearing, about 4 acres of valencias, balance navels, good crop. Owner wants to sell this week and offers grove at the low price of $13,500 for quick sale. Look it over.

Here is an opportunity for some one to acquire a first class grove on very easy terms. On account of the owner having engaged in business undertakings which demand his personal attention, he offers this grove on exceedingly liberal terms. An abundant water supply, excellent soil. Nearly 40 acres, trees in full bearing, in fine condition, with an immense crop of fruit. Nominal improvements. $65,000 will buy the entire property. $15,000 down, balance can be paid out of the crop each year, in reasonable satisfactory annual payments. If desired owner will divide the acreage and make very liberal terms. This property I consider a bargain and whoever purchases it will certainly find it a good investment.

$32,500—20 acres, magnificently located, 8 room house, barn, fine shrubbery, flowers. Trees in full bearing, part lemons, part oranges. A heavy crop on the trees, in fine condition. Better look it over.

I want an offer and want it quickly, on one of the finest young orange groves in Southern California. 19 acres only 4 years old, although they look like 6 or 7 year old trees, in first class condition. Crop estimate, 2000 boxes, beautifully located near the foothills where there is practically no danger whatever from injurious or killing frosts. Price, $23,000. This can be shaded for quick sale. This grove in 2 or 3 years should bring $35,000. 15 acres valencias, 4 acres navels. If you want a good investment, you cannot better this grove.

The Gentle Game of Golf.

On one occasion an old lady was in the same railway compartment as a party of golfers. "I found fearful trouble this morning," said one. "At the first I fell right into the middle of a prickly gorse bush, and at the second I was stuck up on the top of a tree. I pitched out of bounds into the farmyard at the third, got caught by the wire at the fourth. I stuck fast in a deep hole at the fifth, found myself buried in the mud at the sixth, I was lying in a heap of rough flints at the seventh, got lost at the eighth and finished up at the bottom of that dirty ditch at the last hole."

"Goodness me," cried the horrified old lady from her corner of the carriage, "and they told me that golf was an old man's game! I'll never let my Edwin play again!"—London Globe.

Acquiring a Reputation

Archbishop Howley, who lived in the eighteenth century, most unjustly got the reputation of swearing like a trooper. The explanation is the Duke of Cumberland, who fought the battle of Culloden, and who was unspeakably profane, once went in quest of the prime to get his assistance about a certain bill which he disliked. He returned to the house of lords, saying: "It's all right, my lords. I've seen the Archbishop, and he says he'll see the promoters to—before he'll vote for the—bill!" As a matter of fact, all the profanity had been supplied quite in the ordinary run of conversation by the duke.—London Tatler.

SOIL CHEMIST VISITS GROVES

DR. R. R. SNOWDEN GUEST OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AND RANCHERS.

Covina Valley Farmers' Club Welcomes Him in Afternoon and Paper is Read.

One of the important moves in connection with the agitation for using practical science in the citrus industry in the Covina valley, was made on Saturday last, when the groves received a visit from Dr. R. R. Snowden, of Los Angeles, one of the best soil chemists in this portion of the state. Dr. Snowden was the guest of the Covina Chamber of Commerce during the forenoon, and a speaker at the meeting of the Covina Valley Farmers' Club in the afternoon.

In automobiles belonging to W. P. Watts and Harry Damerel, both large growers of oranges, a party consisting of William Hoogendyk, manager of the Charter Oak Citrus Association packing house; N. D. Mussey, a prominent lemon grower; H. N. Wells, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; Mr. Watts and Mr. Damerel, the soil chemist was taken to several ranches in the valley, and took a large number of samples of the soil, to a depth of from one foot to six feet and over. These samples are now being analyzed in Dr. Snowden's laboratory in Los Angeles, and when he has determined upon a report, it will be printed in the Argus.

Dr. Snowden was also a brief speaker during the morning at the director's meeting of the Irwindale Citrus Association, where he spoke on the value of gypsum in counteracting the evil effects of magnesia in the soil, also advocating the liberal use of lime in its other phases when the condition of the soil warranted such a use. At this meeting Dr. Snowden said that too much gypsum could not be used, and said in fact that it would be well to "put on all the pocket-book will stand."

In the afternoon Dr. Snowden addressed the Farmers' Club. The meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Berry on Badillo avenue, and a good musical entertainment was supplied. Mrs. Berry, at the close of the meeting served a very delectable lunch. Mr. Ben F. Thorpe, president of the organization, introduced Dr. Snowden. Following the paper which he read, there was a general discussion which was entered into with enthusiasm by the growers, and Dr. Snowden was kept busy for some time, answering many technical and practical questions. Dr. Snowden's paper is as follows:

THE EFFECTS OF NITRATE OF SODA ON THE SOIL AND ON THE TREES OF CITRUS ORCHARDS.

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am here this afternoon to talk to you about the effects of nitrate of soda, and I propose to tell you "the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth."

I do not need to say anything about the power of nitrate of soda in causing a vigorous, healthy growth in all plants, nor is it necessary to speak of the increased yield and size of fruit it produces when used in conjunction with other plant food elements. With these you are all familiar. But we will consider briefly those effects which are more obscure, and hence of less general knowledge.

As we all know, anything that has power for good, when that power is properly directed and controlled, has also power for evil when not so controlled, or when misused. Nitrate of soda is no exception. But it happens that every evil that may arise from its use is avoidable.

In the use of nitrate of soda a limit may be reached beyond which it would prove unprofitable. You may go still farther in its use and reach another limit, as with any soluble salt, where the plant might be injuriously affected. The cost of the article however, will prove a protecting barrier to your ever reaching the latter and higher limit.

I have known of 25 pounds of nitrate of soda being used in one application to an orange tree without bad effects. But I do not advise anyone to use so much nitrate of soda at a time, or even in a whole year, on orange trees, because a portion of this would be simply wasted.

Theoretically, the long-continued use of nitrate of soda will finally result in the accumulation of "black" alkali in the soil. I say theoretically with emphasis, because there are many factors that operate against such a finality. Even if there were no means of counteracting this tendency there is nothing to fear, since it is so easy to find out with a little strip of red litmus paper if the alkali is present. And furthermore, a slight alkalinity of the soil is beneficial, since it is absolutely necessary to bacterial life and activity, upon which so much in agriculture depends. As a matter of fact, however, some of the soda left by the nitrate after the nitrogen has been absorbed by the trees, is assimilated and becomes a part of the tree and fruit. Another part, by a process of substitution, takes the place of its equivalent in potash, in its insoluble forms, rendering the latter available while so much soda is thus, in effect, withdrawn from the soil. That this replacement of potash by soda does take place to a measurable extent is vouchered for by so high an authority as Dr. Hilgard, besides having been demonstrated in my own laboratory. Still another portion of the soda coming in contact with any gypsum that may be in the soil, or that may be added to it, in the presence of carbonic acid, rapidly becomes by double decomposition, the sulphate of soda, while the lime in the gypsum becomes the very needful carbonate. These are not theories, but demonstrated facts.

It is customary to use superphosphate with nitrate of soda, and I generally advise from two and one-half to three times as much of the former as of the latter for citrus trees. In these proportions the superphosphate contains more than enough gypsum to convert all the soda from the nitrate into the sulphate, even were none removed from the soil in the manner already mentioned. Now the sulphate of soda is the least harmful of all the ordinary sodium salts. The investigators of the University of California observed that the highest amounts of the several sodium salts in which orange and lemon trees seemed unharmed are as follows, in pounds per acre in four feet depth:

Orange Lemon
Common salt	3,360 800
"Black" alkali	3,840 480
Sulphate of soda	18,600 4,480

If your soil is open and you have good drainage the winter rains will probably keep this as well as other soluble salts within the limit of safety. I will tell you a little story that seems to the point.

A man who had a grievance against another thought to put the other out of commission in the following novel manner: He went to the king and told him that this other man could teach a bear to read just as a human being does. Whereupon the king called for the intended victim and demanded that he proceed to educate the king's pet bear. Protesting strenuously, the poor fellow went to a wise friend and asked his advice as to what to do to avert this seeming certain doom. The other said: "By all means take the job with as much grace as possible, since there are three chances for your escape. First, the king may die before the time comes for you to report. Next, the bear may die. And finally, if the bear doesn't die you can make it die." And so, if the rain will not wash the soluble salts out of your soil I believe you can make it do so.

Without doubt enough water falls upon your land and comes down from the mountains to wash your soils as clean as could be desired. The most of you can probably make the soil take in all the water that falls upon it. If the proper degree of moisture is maintained in the soil, not only will the rainfall be more easily taken care of, but it will be more effective in carrying the soluble salts below the reach of the roots, where they may be kept by sufficient irrigation and efficient mulching.

Regardless of whether or not you use any particular fertilizing material, the cultivated soil is undergoing constant change. You should know your soils better than you do. How near the limit of safety are the soluble salts? What is the water doing? How deep does it permeate the soil? Dr. King found that many orchards were not receiving enough water, nor even the amount that was supposed to be put on.

These are vital questions and should be studiously answered.

The more scant the water supply, the less soluble salts would be required to injure the trees, since their action depends upon their degree of concentration.

When you are dealing with virgin soil conditions there was a margin of potential recuperation wide enough to hide all mistakes in treatment, but this margin has become so narrowed by constant invasion as to necessitate the careful husbanding of every element of success if the orchards are to continue to be profitable. The one element upon which every other depends is the handling of the water. Then the cover crop or some other means of putting humus into the soil is of great importance. I mention these things because they have a direct bearing on the final value of the nitrate, as

CARNAHAN-LAWSON.

Well Known Covina Young Man Takes Alhambra Bride and Ceremony is Impressive.

A wedding which attracted interest among the residents of Alhambra and this place was celebrated at 3:30 on Wednesday afternoon at the First Presbyterian Church of Alhambra. The bride, Miss Helen Lawson, who is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Lawson of South First street, Alhambra, is well known here, having spent several years of her early life as a resident of Covina, while the groom, Paxton H. Carnahan, is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Carnahan, and has a wide circle of Covina friends.

The church was made beautiful with a profusion of greenery and white roses and was a fitting setting for the dainty little bride in her gown of chiffon over white satin, with garnitures of pearl trimming. Her bouquet was lilies of the valley and ferns. Miss Lawson was attended by her sister, Mrs. Clarence Williams of Pasadena, who was also attired in white. Preceding the bride and her matron of honor came her little brother, Bruce, who acted as ring bearer. Francis Lawson served as Mr. Carnahan's best man. The double ring ceremony was performed by the groom's uncle, Rev. R. D. Carnahan of the Cucamonga Presbyterian Church, and by the bride's pastor, Rev. Montgomery of Alhambra. Music was furnished by Miss Fanny Wallen, a classmate of the bride's, who is a pipe organist of note. The ushers were Clarence Williams and Austin Gates. After the return from the church an informal reception was held at the Lawson home to the immediate relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Carnahan left at 6 o'clock for a short wedding trip and upon their return will make their home at Fillmore, Ventura county. Among those from this vicinity who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Snively, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Groover and Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Gaebke.

High School Items

Albino Power, of the class of '10, was a visitor in the school Monday afternoon.

The Freshies have secured class hats that are absolutely the last word as regards coloring. They are so loud that they can be heard coming at least a half mile away. The colors are blue and gold, the class insignia.

An original plan has been adopted by the executive committee to further aid in the work of paying off the deficits. A beauty contest is being held, and prizes are to be given to the handsomest boy and the most beautiful girl student, as elected by the members of the student body, who buy tickets allowing them one vote each for the handsomest boy and most beautiful girl. Great excitement pervades the building at present, and scores are rolling in in great style. The contest closes next Friday afternoon, and the students are anxiously awaiting the date.

Sam Scofield, '11, who was ill all of last week, has recovered and resumed his duties in the Senior class.

The members of the class of '11, the haughty Seniors, will hold a class jollification in the High School this evening. A report of the "doings" will be in these columns next week.

Tennis is occupying almost all of the spare time of the students at present. Great interest is being taken in the game, and some of the students are fast becoming experts.

Members of Episcopal Church Gather at Home of William Crook on Saturday Evening.

The Social Club of the Holy Trinity Episcopal Church of Covina was given a very entertaining evening Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Crook on Rowland avenue. The affair was one of many that will be held this year at different times, and about fifty people gathered to enjoy the hospitality.

Music of a curious and interesting kind was furnished on zobos and whistles, and games of many kinds were enjoyed. Mrs. Crook, assisted by young ladies, served a very delectable lunch. The club is planning for more entertainments of a similar nature, and the winter season will be kept gay with social activity.

I knew a man who thought his wife ought to look his clothes over every night to see if the buttons were on all right and there were no holes in the pockets. And yet, I never heard that he sat up nights thinking of little things he might do to make his wife happier. Lots of them he might have thought of! Brethren, let's be ready to give as well as take.

Cow Sold For 15 Cents

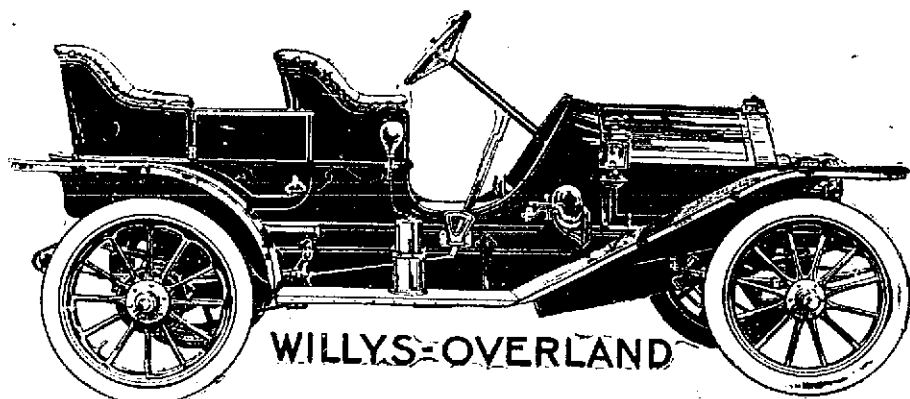

Dead cows sell for more than that, but this cow was a live one. More than that, she was sold for fifteen cents here in Covina. Further, George E. Covert, the real estate man, sold the cow. Also, he is a live one.

Mr. Covert says he could have sold fifteen cows for the same money, fifteen cents.

Last Saturday Mr. Covert phoned in an ad to the Argus. The ad was a three-line "want ad," costing 15 cents.

After the paper was posted Saturday morning there were fifteen answers between then and Sunday noon. The cow was sold to the first party answering the ad.

Theatrical Notes

"The Blue Mouse."

"The Blue Mouse" will have its first production on any Los Angeles stage at the Belasco theater next Monday night with every favorite member of the stock organization in the cast.

In the New York season, "The Blue Mouse" was one of the biggest successes of the year, and it has been given in every Shubert theater of the country with the exception of Los Angeles. The production at the Belasco is made by special arrangement with the Messrs. Shubert and is the most important of the series of plays released by that prominent managerial firm to the Belasco company for special production in this city.

"The Blue Mouse" is just farce—stage fun in the briskest form, bright and happy throughout and with enough sprightliness in the lines and situations to lift the piece out of the ordinary run of farcical affairs and place it in a niche all by itself. From the very rise of the curtain until the final moments of the piece the fun in "The Blue Mouse" is of the sort that creates the heartiest sort of merriment, and there is not a let-up in the hilarity for even an instant.

"The Blue Mouse" is the popular name given to Paulette Devine, a dancer who introduced the Salome dance to the New York stage. Paulette is a frivolous, light-hearted, volatile young woman possessed of a ravishing beauty and a "temperament" that induced her to do many unconventional things. The dancer is hired by a young man, Augustus Rollett, the private secretary to the president of the New York Inter-County railroad, to impersonate his wife, the elderly president having a penchant for the good looking wives of his private secretaries. Rollett is after the position of division superintendent of the road with the knowledge that if he gets the place his father-in-law will reward Mrs. Rollett with a very substantial check in the shape of a dowry, and under no other conditions will he do so. The frisky old railroad president is blessed with a wife whose beauty and form have seen better days, and Mrs. Rollett's father-in-law too, still has in his veins a drop of the blood of youth. Given this foundation for a farce and the complacently temperamental Paulette for a heroine, Clyde Fitch, the adapter of the play, found no trouble in creating a host of situations of the laughter-compelling kind. New York roared over the antics of "The Blue Mouse" for an entire season; Chicago did likewise, and even the said theater goers of Philadelphia cuddled up close to Paulette and her stage friends for a record-breaking run. Los Angeles is sure to like "The Blue Mouse" immensely, for it has not had a farce containing the same amount of downright cleverness and frivolous fun for many a day.

The role of Paulette Devine, the "Blue Mouse," will be played by Eleanor Gordon and will afford the new leading woman of the Belasco company a chance to show herself as a comedienne of high order. Lewis S. Stone will be seen as Rollett, the private secretary.

"The Witching Hour."

John Mason and his New York company will begin an engagement at the Majestic next week, limited to one week, in Augustus Thomas's wonderful play, "The Witching Hour," which scored heavily in this city last season.

"The Witching Hour" has been admitted to be the best work Mr. Thomas ever wrote, and this is saying much when his many great American plays are considered. The story, although a love tale, argues a serious problem, the force of telepathy, a science which many are apt to deny and yet which is being proven by the greatest minds of the world. Years ago it was looked upon as the occult, or worse, a kind of deception, but the schools of hypnotism and telepathy in France have demonstrated that it is worthy of serious consideration and belief. "The Witching Hour" is a serious drama and a beautiful love story, not intended to teach telepathy, but containing situations which were governed by the force and, as the author avers, are founded upon facts. Caly Whipple, through fear, kills a man, the law for which is the death penalty, but the Supreme Court admits the situation to be not criminal, but the natural consequence of inherited fear. Jack Brookfield, played by Mr. Mason, also offers a strange argument, for although he is a gambler, he is a man of honorable quality and strong purposes. In his career as keeper of a gambling house it has never occurred to him to be crooked, and although he has always been exceedingly prosperous, he calls it luck. He can tell the cards held by the other man, and it is not until the force of telepathy is explained by a distinguished man, Justice Prentice, that he realizes that he pos-esses the power to subject others to his own will and beat them at his pleasure. When this is realized, he looks upon himself as a monster and regrets the fortune he has made by the power nature has bestowed upon him. Two pretty love stories run through the play and both end happily. The Messrs. Shubert have given "The Witching Hour" a notable production and Mr. Mason's support includes George Ganton, Grace Reals, Frank L. Dear, Belle Howell Bohn, W. H. Saddler, Natalie Jerome, Clinton Preston, Harry West, Harry Leighton, E. L. Walton, W. E. Butterfield, and others.

Burbank Scores Again.

Oliver Morosco has scored another success with his first production at the Burbank theater of the new drama of modern domestic life, "The Eternal Three," by Frederick Eldridge and Reed Heustis. This play was unknown a week ago, and today it is the talk of Los Angeles. The drama itself is of absorbing interest, with the story of the woman who gave up her lover when she found he loved her sister, idealized him in spite of his faithlessness and finally discovered his utter perfidy. The production which was given the play by the Burbank company is of such a high order that it contributed largely to the tremendous success of the piece. The crowds have been steadily increasing with each performance, and the play will continue another week to accommodate the demand for seats.

Seldom has there been seen on a Los Angeles stage so beautiful a stage setting as the second act of "The Eternal Three." The scene painter, the property man and all the mechanical craftsmen of the Burbank worked together to produce an effect that is beautifully harmonious and perfect. And the actors rose to the occasion and are giving a splendid lot of impersonations. Miss Marjorie Rambeau as the sacrificing sister strikes a note of pathos that reaches every heart. Miss Grace Travers is in effective contrast. A. Byron Beasley as the scamp of the play has a thankless task, and the fact that he makes everyone hate Rand Cornell is high testimony to the art he employs. Howard Scott as the jovial German, has some of the cleverest lines of the piece, and he makes everyone reach home. David Laandau comes nearest to heroism of any of the men, and is always strong and verile. David M. Hartford, Peter Lang and H. S. Duffield are congenially cast, and Louise Royce, Ethel Von Waldron and Cleo Madison have excellent roles. The production throughout is a striking example of the high class of the Burbank company, and the play is fully deserving of its elaborate premiere.

"The Trolley Trail."

"The Trolley Trail" is an exquisite booklet in colors that is being sent out by the Pacific Electric Company, and a copy reached the Argus this week. The book has been compiled with a great deal of care, contains much information about Southern California, and is very profusely illustrated with photographs. It embraces the cities and towns through which the company operates its lines, which is practically the entire Southern California territory.

Along with many other photographs, this book contains pictures of Covina, and taking the book as a whole it is a valuable addition to the exploitation literature of Southern California. The company has spared no expense in making it a triumph of the printing art.

COOK-WHEELER.

California Ranchman Goes to Concord, Mass., to Wed Sweetheart of His School Days.

Concord, Mass., Oct. 5.—Miss Mary E. Wheeler, daughter of Mrs. Caleb H. Wheeler of this town, and George P. Cook of Heber, Cal., were married this evening at the bride's home on Sudbury road, by Rev. Wren B. MacDonald, pastor of the First Parish Church. James Wheeler, a brother of the bride, gave her in marriage. A sister of the bride, Miss Sarah E. Wheeler, was the maid of honor. J. Malcolm Eveleth of Lincoln was best man.

After a honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Cook will reside at Heber, Cal.

Mr. Cook, who owns a large stock ranch in Southern California, is well known here, where he attended the high school and was prominent as a star pitcher on the high school ball team for several years.

OLDFIELD AT THE MOTORDROME.

The Speed King Signed to Appear on Nov. 26 and 27. Will Not Compete in Santa Monica Race.

Manager Walter Hempel of the Motordrome received a contract this week from Barney Oldfield, agreeing to race with his 200 horse-power Benz and 6 cylinder Knox at the opening meet, Nov. 26 and 27. Ben Kercher and his 100 horse-power Darracq has also entered. Both drivers agreed in writing not to compete in any other event in California, previous to the Motordrome races. The attendance of these noted drivers practically assures the success of Hempel's meet.

Oldfield has swept the boards this season and Barney has regained practically all his old records and established many new marks. He has been particularly active in and near New York and through the New England states, and for several weeks during the midsummer he raced as often as five days a week.

Manager Hempel promises the entries of many more noted Eastern drivers and added to the local cars who have promised to compete. Hempel expects at least 20 entries. Entry blanks for the Motordrome races were mailed this week.

Aviation Meet.

Great progress in aviation, invention and construction of heavier-than-air flying machines has been made by the Aero Club of California, and to celebrate its progress is preparing to hold a meet at the Motordrome, near Playa Del Rey, Oct. 22 and 23. There are now fifteen machines there constructed or in the process of building at the hangar of the club, while a dozen other members throughout Southern California are constructing machines or trying them out after having them built. A large number of these machines will be at the Motordrome for the meet, and at least three of them have shown ability to fly for miles. Three or four will take part only in experiments, such as towing and gliding.

ORDINANCE NO. 80.

AN ORDINANCE FIXING THE SALARY OF THE CITY ATTORNEY.

The Board of Trustees of the City of Covina do ordain as follows:

Section 1. That the salary of the City Attorney of the City of Covina is hereby fixed at the sum of thirty-five dollars ($35.00) per month.

Section 2. All ordinances and parts of ordinances inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 3. The City Clerk shall certify to the adoption of this ordinance and shall cause the same to be published once in the Covina Argus, a weekly newspaper published and circulated in the City of Covina, and thereupon and thereafter the same shall take effect and be in force.

The foregoing ordinance was adopted at a regular meeting of the Board of Trustees of the City of Covina, held on the 18th day of October, 1910, by the affirmative vote of at least three trustees, to-wit:

Ayes: Ratekin, Wilson, Welch and Griswold.

Noes: None.

Absent: Warner.

Signed and approved this 18th day of October, A.D., 1910.

L. L. RATEKIN,

President of the Board of Trustees of the City of Covina.

Attest: A. M. PENCE,

City Clerk.

City Taxes.

All city taxes for the current year are now due and payable at the office of the undersigned, on Citrus Avenue, in the City of Covina, and will become delinquent upon the last Monday of December, 1910, at 5 o'clock p.m., and unless paid prior thereto 10 per cent will be added to the amount thereof.

I. C. FAIRLY,

City Tax Collector of the City of Covina.

Town and Country

Don't Forget James.

Judge William P. James, candidate for election on the Republican ticket to the position of district judge to the court of appeal, was a visitor in Covina Thursday, spending a little time in the interests of his candidacy. Judge James is a man to whom the heart warms. From the district attorney's office to the position of superior judge, where he was for a time presiding judge of Los Angeles county, he was appointed to the appellate court to fill out the vacancy made by the death of Judge Taggart. In order to continue after this appointment has run out, Judge James must be elected by the voters this fall. He thoroughly deserves election. Still comparatively a young man, he has risen rapidly because of his ability and fairness. Voters are cautioned to look on the ballot on election day and find his name in the independent column. Under the word "independent" you will find his name. Vote for him and make no mistake.

Dust and Splinters.

There was "some class" to the runaway that occurred before noon Wednesday, when the team belonging to R. C. Casad took a wild dash through the alley-way back of the Webb block. The team was being turned around on College street, near the fire station, and became frightened, broke away from the driver and plunged down the narrow alley behind the Warner, Whitsel store. Several teams in the alley were hurled aside by the rushing team. The fence received a hard jolt, and the team took a regular Ben Hur chariot race turn as it came into Badillo avenue by the postoffice. The horses were stopped as they turned into the corral by the old stable on Badillo avenue. The wagon was badly smashed, and Casad's driver received some bad bruises.

Buy Fertilizer Now.

F. C. Wilson has everything in the line of simples in fertilizer, and the company he represents will mix all fertilizers to dictation. You can have fertilizers made according to your own ideas. Plenty of gypsum on hand right now, also nitrate of soda, potash, superphosphates. Remember the gypsum and the lime. Call 1096.

Fine Walnuts This Year.

Up until Tuesday of this week, twenty-five cars of walnuts had been shipped from the El Monte station. Much of this consignment was grown on the new land in the West Covina and Bassett district. The crop on the big Bassett ranch of 200 acres is estimated as near to seventy-five tons, and the nuts are fine quality. The growers have been receiving fifteen cents per pound for the number one nuts, eleven cents for the number two grade, and seventeen and one-half cents for the nuts from budded stock. The West Covina and Bassett district has been coming into bearing so rapidly that the growers are about to organize an association in that district, and will probably build a shipping and sorting house the coming year.

Hard Bump For Covina Car.

The Covina car, leaving here at 6:50 o'clock on Monday morning was run into by a Pasadena car just above Covina junction and a number of Covina passengers were badly shaken up. There was some misunderstanding about signals, coupled with a wet rail that did not allow the brakes to hold. J. D. Moffatt, a bookkeeper from Covina, was among those who were quite badly shaken up.

Democrats at Puente.

The Democratic Club of Puente has arranged for a meeting tonight, at which a number of speakers from Los Angeles, who will outline the proper candidates for the loyal ones, will be present. J. W. Bowler, president of the club, will have charge of the meeting.

Ball Bat Gashed Head.

While playing ball at the grammar school campus yesterday, Kenneth Stephens, son of H. Y. Stephens, was cut on the head, and four stitches were taken by Dr. Jennings. The boys were playing ball and a boy at the bat lost hold of the stick and it flew and struck the Stephens lad. The affair was wholly an accident.

Still A Chance.

C. H. Kistler says that you still can get twenty cents back on every dollar you spend with him at his store. He made a few remarks about the fine stock of glassware and crockery ware, and it's a fact—he has got a fine line of goods. Better step in and see them.

Neighbor City Progressing.

Azusa has voted a $40,000 municipal bond issue. The election was held on Wednesday, and carried by a vote of 197 to 44. Azusa is determined to make the country within its confines attractive to everyone who visits the little city, and the result of the election is a good lesson to other cities in the valley.

Buys New Chalmers.

One of the latest additions to the big automobile list of Covina is Frank Houser, who has invested in a new Chalmers-Detroit machine. The machine is thirty horse-power, and is an attractive looking piece of property.

Garvin Ranch Sold.

The Edwards & Wilbey Realty Co., through their local agent, D. W. MacDonald, has sold the eight acres of Valencia and navel oranges owned by the estate of D. C. Garvin, to C. O. Ross of Lark Ellen street. The price was $10,000. Mr. Ross exchanged a house and lot valued at $2,000 in Los Angeles, and paid the balance in cash.

Covina Physician Moves.

Dr. L. W. Atkinson, who has been practicing medicine in Covina for some time, has purchased the practice of Dr. H. M. Coulter of Azusa, and will remove his offices to that city the latter part of this month. The practice is stated to be an extensive one, but Dr. Atkinson states that he will be able to attend to his practice in Covina as well.

Gun-Shot Victim Improves.

I. V. Degree, who suffered an amputation of the foot as the result of an accident while out hunting, is steadily improving. His vitality is such that he is rapidly overcoming the shock. Dr. L. W. Atkinson, who performed the operation, states that the young man is on the road to recovery.

Compliments For Bride-To-Be.

Mrs. O. C. Willoughby entertained Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Jennie Benton, who is to be married tomorrow to Mr. Leo Willoughby. The affair took the form of a miscellaneous shower of handsome pieces of linen, silver and other useful articles. A light collation was served at the close of the evening. The guests were Misses E. Willoughby, Benton, Spencer, Lewis, A. Clutterback, Goodrich, R. Crouse, C. Garrison, Shirley, Snodgrass, Hutchison, Miss Spencer, Last Friday another surprise shower was given for the same young lady by the members of her Sunday-school class at the home of Mrs. Willoughby.

Some More Play.

The man was looking over the family bills as his wife glanced through the paper.

"Oh, John," she said, "it tells here of a young fellow who got fined $5.00 for flirting."

"That's cheaper than I got off," replied the man, his eye still on the bills.—Philadelphia Ledger.
